REX SCHOOL OF NURSING

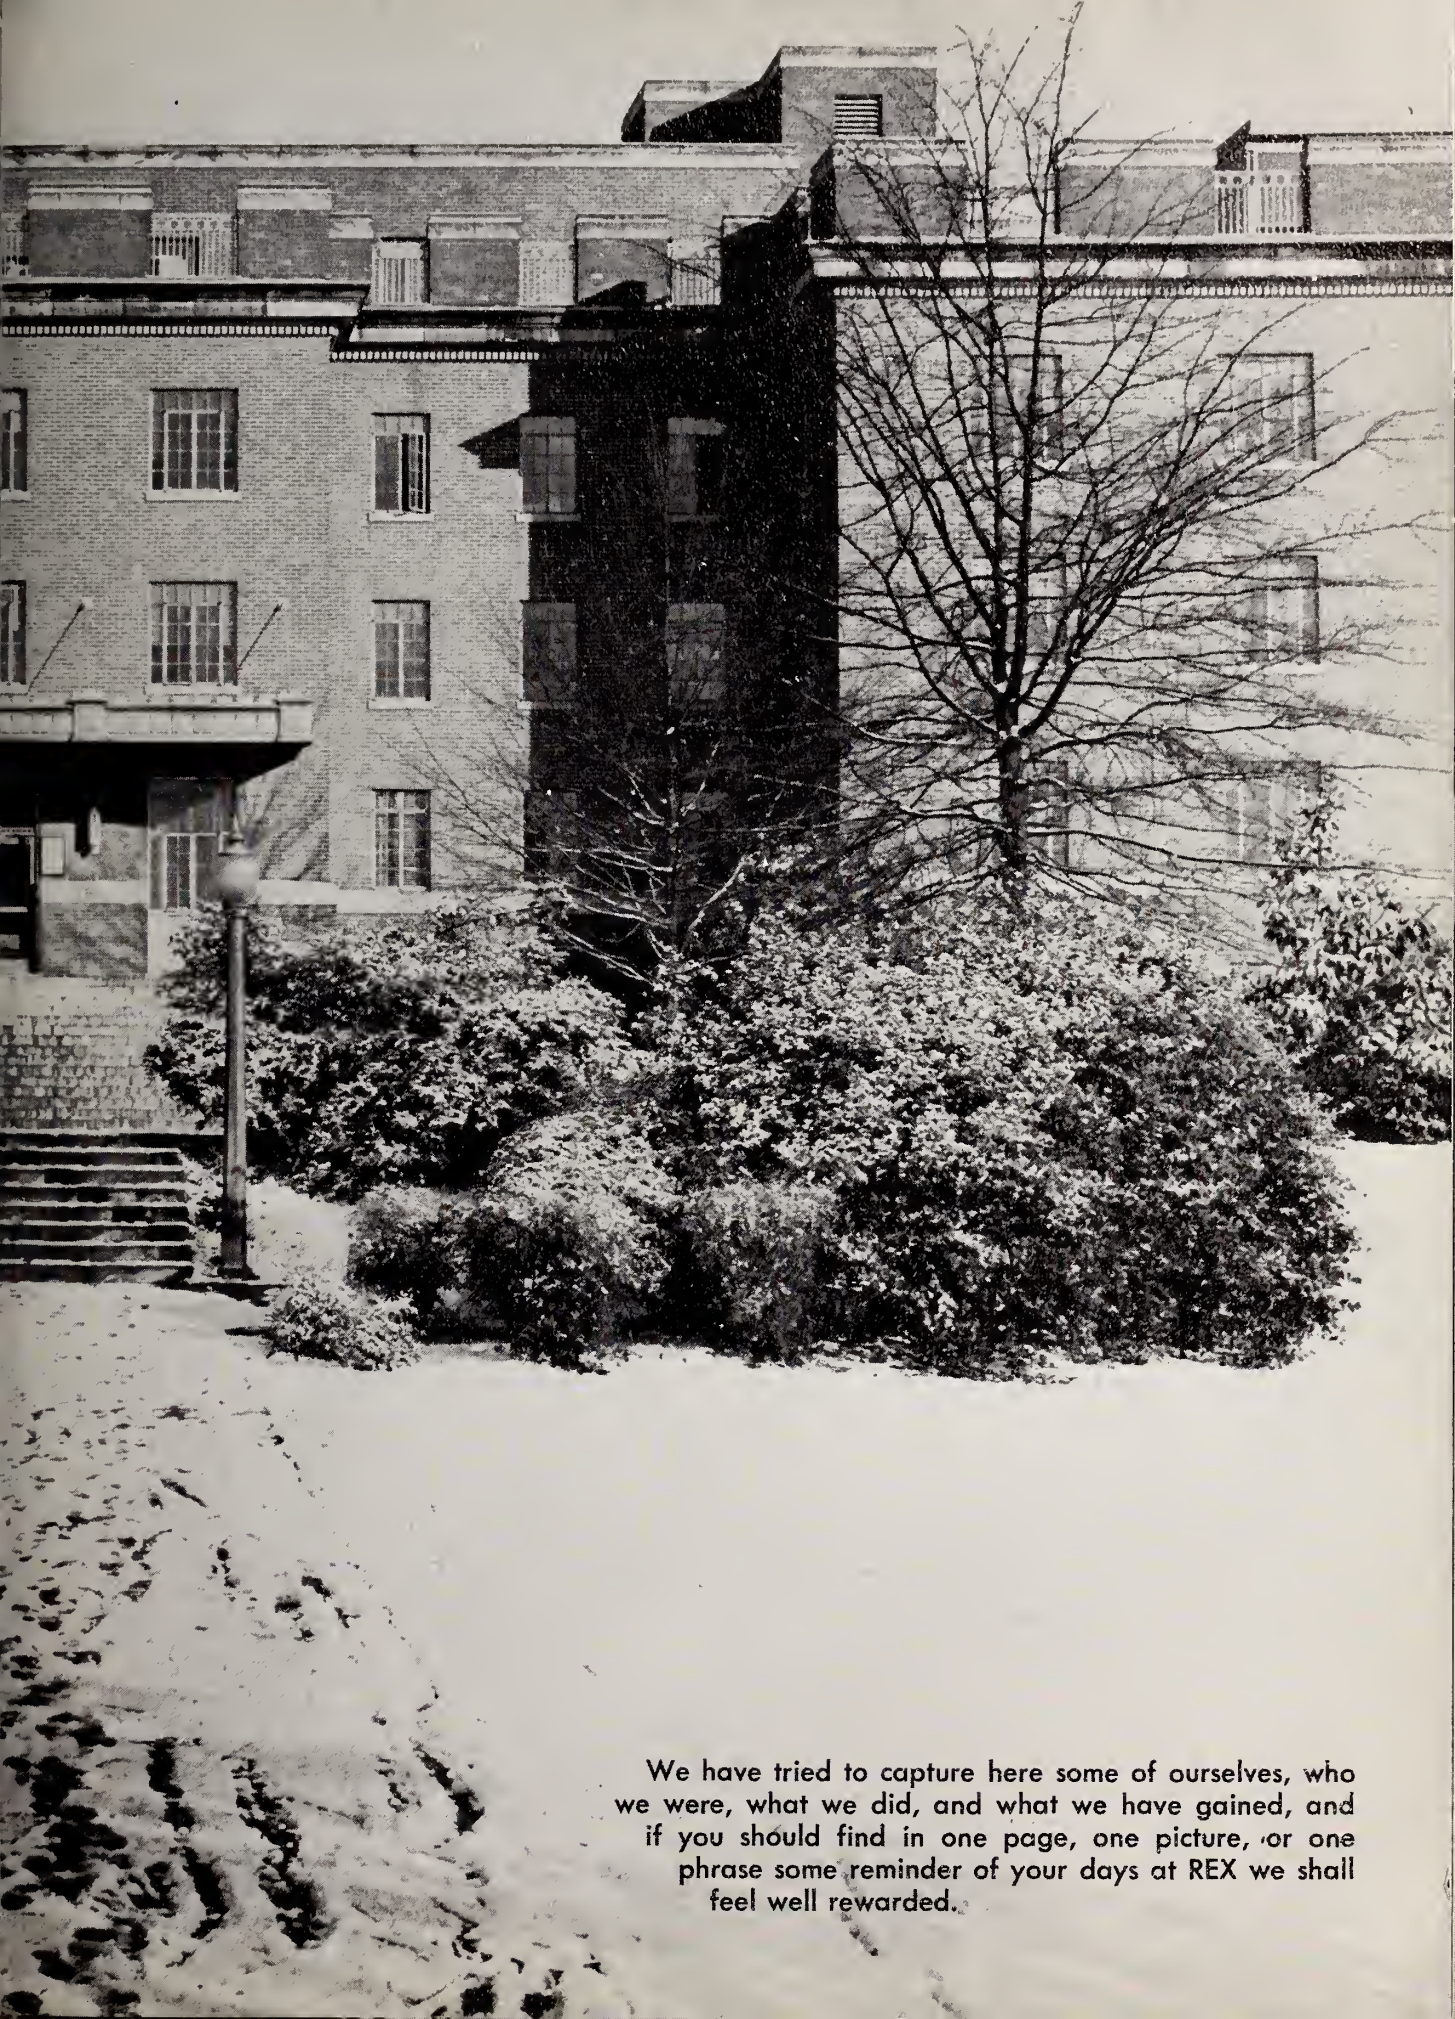

RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

ANN SMITH, Editor

When, throughout the sometimes turbulent, sometimes difficult, always profitable days of training, we lived, learned, and thought together within the sturdy yet confining walls of our school — that we might be better servants to our God and our fellowman.

We have tried to capture here some of ourselves, who we were, what we did, and what we have gained, and if you should find in one page, one picture, or one phrase some reminder of your days at REX we shall feel well rewarded.

TO CAPT. AILEEN SAIN . . . who, believing always in our ability, supported us; who, feeling fervently our successes and sorrows, sympathized; who reliving her own days in training with us, understood . . . We, the Senior Class of 1954, gratefully dedicate this, our annual, in humble appreciation.

WALKING WITH GOD

To be a nurse is to walk with God
Along the path that our Master trod
To soothe the aching of human pain;
To faithfully serve for little gain,
To lovingly do the kindly deed—
A cup of water to one in need,
A tender hand on the fevered brow,
A word of cheer in the living now.
To reach the soul through the body's woe—
Ah, this is the way that Jesus would go.
O white-capped girls, with hearts so true,
The Great Physician is working through you.

—Author Unknown

THROUGH THE YEARS

So it is facts everybody is wanting. Well, here are the facts on the class of '54.

Back in September '51, forty-two girls entered the dear ole Rex School of Nursing and a week later a late member strolled in to make a grand starting roll of forty-three. Work began! Busy minds started learning the ways of nursing and college boys' good times. The girls chose to lead them that year Manie Gibson, president; Joyce Harper, vice president; Carol Johnson, treasurer; and Lector Lynam, secretary. Dr. Whitaker and Mrs. Ruth Smith were elected sponsors.

The rules seemed to crack down on the probies. Only one overnight a month; but luck was with this class. Due to a broken furnace, an extra trip home slipped up in October. Some were homesick while others were glad to be away from home. A grand mixture of all types of girls, but a bunch that harmonized like the Andrew sisters.

With the Thanksgiving turkey the P. C.'s (definitely not privileged characters or pole cats) took to the hospital wards and began taking temperatures, pulses, and respirations. Then at Christmas, a whole week of working eight hours a day and a whole week's vacation. It was the vacation that was most appreciated. But Christmas also marked a sad spot, for one went home and then there were forty-two.

January and the first half of February were filled with exams. And then a wonderful thing happened. On February 22, forty girls, now freshman, were capped. Here again, along with tears of joy, was a tear of sorrow for the two girls who left the crew. Following capping was another week's vacation. It was later realized that this vacation was not a reward for having been capped but rather a breather before starting the next three months of work.

These '54'ers must have been a noisy bunch because their first Mothers' Day in training was spent on restriction. That is, all were on restriction except for the slyest in the class who managed to hit the sack before the storm hit them. Finally the freshman summer crept up. The class went on the hospital roster. They felt the importance of being full fledge student nurses and very much a part of the hospital. Summer privileges were much better and the girls kept themselves entertained with sun bathing on the roof, swimming at the pool, unlimited overnights, dates and the usual bridge parties and tea parties. Dr. Whitaker and Mrs. Smith added the keynote of warm weather activities with a picnic at the American Legion pond.

All too soon came fall with football and more classes. But it was great to be juniors and wear the Rex cape. During the summer six more classmates had dropped out of school. Class officers for the '52-'53 year were Sue Brown, president; June Beasley, vice president; Betty Baggett, secretary; and Adaline Vann, treasurer.

The new Student-Faculty Government Association which was started the year before, moved into high gear. A new director of nurses, Margaret Cheek, took over the driving reins. The next two years looked mighty long, but determined young Nightingales marched on. The main social function of the junior year was, of course, the traditional Junior-Senior. It was a grand affair held at the Raleigh Country Club.

In June the first of the class moved over to Dix Hill for three months of psychiatric training. In August the first class baby was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Richardson was the former Miss Gibson. New rules were in effect and students could marry. A transfer student also joined the ranks and another pre-clinical class arrived.

September ended two hard years. Black bands decked the before blank white caps. Only twelve months to go. Needless to say, the main purpose of this senior year was to finish. Senior officers were Ann Smith, president; Gwen Talley, vice president; Jane Lattam, secretary; and Lector Lynam, treasurer. The seniors took their turns at Dix Hill and pediatrics. And then in June, GRADUATION! Although it was wonderful to wear that white uniform, the girls had to turn back to the blue stripes until August 26.

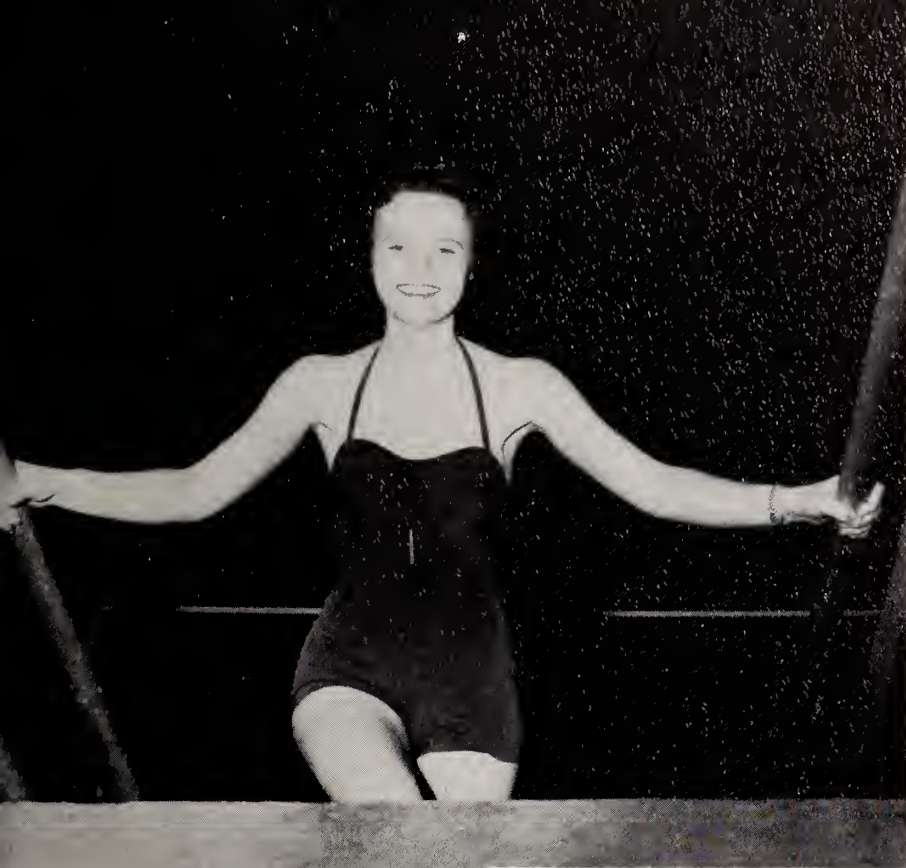

The class left with only thirty-four graduates as to the forty-three preclinicals it began with. But it was a larger family because besides the thirty-four young graduates, there were two babies, six husbands and sixteen weddings planned for the fall. Pretty good for a no good bunch of wonderful girls!

Some stayed at Rex, others went in the armed forces, others just kept house and raised families, and still others went all over the country to practice their hard learned profession. But there is always one thing for sure — there will never be another class like the Rex class of '54. THANK GOODNESS!

It is 3 o'clock in the morning — The babies are sleeping. The mother's are sleeping. The aides are sleeping. So are the internes. You wonder about me? I'm on night duty, (DUM DE DUM DUM) for the twenty-fifth week. I can't sleep. The notice on the bulletin board plainly says so. I'll turn the notice over and catch a few winks anyway.

It's 3:07½ A. M. There's a crash outside! I jump over the bassinets and run to the window. Jay Given (driving her new Caddilac) just collided with Shorty's bicycle. Shorty is uninjured — he's still upstairs, counting out peas — can't decide whether to give 12 or 13 to Juanita Stallings, Head Dietician. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

It's 3:10½ A. M. Barbara Clark rushes to the scene of the accident, wearing her self designed police uniform, consisting of a 4x4 and two feathers. The feathers cover her — (DUM DE DUM DUM) she must have lost weight.

The only part of the car we can salvage is the radio. It's going full blast with Hamilton and Webb's new musical operation, "Blood on the Floor", starring Betty Best singing "I Dropped the Sponge". Followed by Leona Marshburn's latest program "One Hundred and Twenty Questions."

3:15 A. M. There's another loud crash! It's Ann Smith, who just dropped everything, including the retractor she was holding for Dr. Neal, and struck out for California. She heard of the '59 gold rush. Whish — that was Dr. Neal — He's following in the rear. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

My nerves are shattered! I turn the dial. It's 3:23 A.M. One of Broadway's stage plays is starting. It's "Hamlet" with April Riley playing the part of "Ophelia." The program is interrupted by a news flash — Two patients just escaped from Dix Hill. The catastrophe has the new supervisor, Jo Ann Macon, standing on her head. Just as I thought, she's "crazy" about her work. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

An ambulance just drove up. Betty Baggett is at the wheel. Her assistant Audrey Morgan is flaked out in the rear. What happened? A stretcher fell on her head.

I pick up a newspaper lying in the foot of the ambulance. On the front page in bold print I read that Jean McDaniel is trying for the third time to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel. Keep up the good work, Jean. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

3:33½ A.M. I flip over to the Want Ad section. "Wanted" Secretarial position, with adequate salary — 29 years old — no experience and no bad habits — willing to learn — signed, Joyce Harper. "Wanted" Social Hostess position at the T.L.C. Fraternity — no salary required — only room and Board — signed, Sue Brown. "Wanted" Teaching position, preferably German — no other language necessary. R.S.V.P. signed, Jane Lattam. "Wanted" Baby sitter for three weeks while husband and wife fly to Africa on their second honeymoon—signed Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thornton. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

I scan the pages. My eyes bulge — "For Sale" One worn and slightly used husband and two offsprings — cheap — see owner — Mrs. Bobbie Pollard. Next item — "For Sale" Two army uniforms with fatigues — underwear to match — call 3123. Lt. and Mrs. Stinky Styers. "For Sale" One chicken farm consisting of two chickens — plenty of corn to feed 'em with. Call 2132 Mrs. James Taylor. At the bottom of the page I see where Janice Brady is flying to Reno (seeking alimony) for her third divorce. Next item — Melrose Coward is sailing for Europe to continue her musical career. (David launched the boat) DUM DE DUM DUM.

It's 4:05 A.M. Frances Alderman is just coming off her date — bubbling over with excitement — After nine years of steady courtship, her fraternity boyfriend let her count the pearls in his pin. Just as I thought — She's a "pearl digger."

DRAG A HAIR NET (Continued)

4:07 A.M. What's that I smell—it's smoke!! Lib Fuller, Head Nurse of Pediatrics just exploded (after a run in with Dr. Lawrence) setting the hospital on fire. "Clang, Clang, Clang"—Lector Lynam, driving her fire truck just ran over three pedestrians; one adult and two kids, rushing to the fire — (DUM DE DUM DUM)

4:07½ A.M. Everything is under control now — only damage — Two crushed egos and three of Lector's curls. (She got too close to the fire.)

Someone just hit me with a pint, felt more like a fifth — no it's a milk bottle. Just Betty Schnidt with her friendly greetings. She drives a milk wagon — To show my appreciation I climb in beside her. She tells me Jerry Nelson and Jerry Hollars quit basketball and fled to de hills to de distilling business — must be de good ole mountain dew.

4:35 A.M. We pass Adaline Vann, selling flowers on the street. She figures to make more money that way. Just played a hunch — that's what she did. Just played a hunch!!

Lona Worrell just crossed the street to the orphanage — little old to be an orphan — no she's the matron.

Who is that little woman sitting on the curb? It's Becky Jackson Warrick — She has suffered insomnia ever since Woody left.

Schnidt drops me off at the corner — June Beasley helps me to my feet — She has only three more years to wait for the wedding. She tells me Bonds has taken the fatal plunge and has three little girls. You know what; they all three giggle. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

Manie Richardson just tipped her cap on her way to work. She took Mrs. Stripling's place in the clinic.

It's 5:07 A.M. Mary Lamb just stumbled off the bus. Ray stumbled behind her. They are stumbling to City Hall.

5:18 A.M. Here comes Frances Dunn wearing a flowing robe. "What's that you're wearing Frances?" "It's a nun's habit. I'm a nun". — "Just getting the facts mam, just getting the facts."

The babies are awake — the mothers are awake — the aides are awake — so are the internes (they left three hours ago.) You wonder about me?? I'm awake too. Miss Cheek just woke me! Oh! Oh! Three more months restriction—sans cap. DRAG A HAIR NET. (DUM DE DUM DUM)

The world grows brighter year by year,
 Because some nurse in her little sphere
 Puts on her apron, and smiles and sings
 And keeps on doing the same old things.
 Taking the temperatures, giving the pills
 To remedy mankind's numerous ills.
 Feeding the babies, answering the bells,
 Being polite with a heart that rebels.
 Longing for home, and all the while
 Wearing the same old professional smile.
 Blessing the new born-baby's first breath,
 Closing the eyes that are stilled in death.
 Taking the blame for all mistakes,
 Oh, dear, what a lot of patience it takes.
